

Voting Next Tuesday Is a Distinct Privilege As Well As a Duty As Citizens

More Questions Than Ever Will Be Up for Vote

Voters come Tuesday, general election, will find more questions than ever on which to vote. No less than 27, in all, are on the three ballots to be given each voter.

Generally regarded as the most important to San Diego are the five (on the two small ballots) asking approval of more water for this county, the water to come from the apparent last remaining main source of supply, the Colorado river.

On the main ballot to be given the voter are 22 propositions. First listed is the school bond issue asked for by San Diego unified school district and generally regarded as imperative to the growth of school plants in San Diego to keep pace with tremendous increase in population.

Four are proposed amendments to the charter of San Diego county.

17 State Measures

State measures submitted total 17, of which four have been submitted by initiative of the people. They are Nos. 2, 3, 11 and 12. No. 3 is the one asking for a much needed increase in salary for teachers.

Measure No. 1 was passed by the recent special legislative session and is on a state bond issue in behalf of the war veterans.

The other 12 are amendments to the state constitution proposed by the last regular session of the state legislature, eight by the assembly and four by the state senate.

Sample ballots either are in the mail or already in the hands of the voters. Along with the ballots is a 32-page booklet containing arguments in favor and against the propositions, which every voter is asked to study carefully in order to vote intelligently.

Mrs. Lambert is a member of the Headquarters staff of the Theosophical Society at Covina, Calif. Her subject is to be "Man His Own Redeemer."

(EDITORIAL)

VOTING MORE IMPORTANT THAN EVER

If there ever was an election when voters should exercise their franchise right that election is next Tuesday, Nov. 5. Never were issues and candidates more important even though this is not a presidential election.

Never has there been an election where more study of the issues and the candidates, and particularly of the questions to be voted on is necessary. The propositions are more numerous than ever, also the propaganda supporting this or that question. Careful sifting of the pros and cons on each is necessary and more than ever must the "colored gentry in the woodpile" be determined before voting. More than ever is good horse sense needed.

We'll mention here just the one group of five questions regarding water. There's only one sensible, far-seeing and imperative way to vote on these and that is "Yes" on all five. We are going to have a million people in San Diego county inside of 20 years, and we doubt if all the water we can ever get from the Colorado river will be enough after that. Without this extra supply that we can get by voting "Yes" Tuesday we're simply going to be "sunk."

Our Ocean Beach area is especially interested in the school bond questions to be voted on Tuesday. A "Yes" vote on that will be a vote for sorely needed improvements at Point Loma high school, our own Ocean Beach Elementary school and Dana Junior High. The News recommends a "Yes" vote on the school bonds.

Here in San Diego we don't have the excuse of "bad weather" for not voting.

Study carefully your sample ballot. Then go to the polls Tuesday, and be sure you vote right.

Spectacular Fire Destroys Sheds On Institute Grounds

Spectacular fire Wednesday night destroyed two one-story frame sheds and damaged a third at the old Point Loma Theosophical Institute at 600 Catalina Blvd. Flames from the blaze were visible to many local residents.

Ocean Beach Fire company, No. 15, responded to an alarm turned in at 8:14 p. m. from the office of Mrs. E. Morin, mnger of a housing project now occupying the site. A resident of the project who had first discovered the fire endeavored to control it using a garden hose before turning in the alarm.

Two additional fire companies, Nos. 20 and 22, were called to the scene because the nearest hydrant was located some 2000 feet distant at Dupont and Catalina. Water was brought to bear on the fire by a relay hook-up using three engines. Four lines from engine of Company 20 were used in controlling the blaze.

None of the dwellings in the former institute grounds were damaged. The sheds destroyed or damaged were two storerooms and a workshop. The property is now owned by George W. Wood and is occupied largely by veterans and their families. A definite fire hazard exists because of the inadequate water supplies within the grounds, The News is informed.

State Convention Reports Feature Kiwanis Meeting

Reports from the recent Kiwanis state convention at Oakland, Calif., featured the Tuesday evening meeting of Ocean Beach Kiwanians. Vice-President Henry Holman made the principal report, giving the highlights of the main talks at the convention. He said President Wm. Jeffers of the Union Pacific Railway, U. S. Senator W. F. Knowland and Will Rogers Jr. were the headlined speakers.

Convention theme, Holman stated was "Build for Peace, Unity and Opportunity."

Jerry Sullivan, past president, also reported briefly on the convention, especially the golf side-light feature. Incidentally, Jerry was later reported to have won one of the cash prizes at the tournament.

At the business session, Holman was presented with a pin signifying six years of perfect attendance at Kiwanis meetings.

Robert Murphy of Los Angeles arrived Friday for a week's visit at the home of his uncle, Martin Murphy, 3749 Narragansett Ave.

Children's Parade Draws Hundreds To Business Dist.

The second annual Halloween parade sponsored by the Kiwanis club, held Thursday (last) night, drew hundreds of Ocean Beach folks to the Newport Ave. business district. School children of grades 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 and 9, in colorful costumes paraded in four divisions. Other units in the parade included the Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, school bands and miniature floats by local merchants.

A community dance enjoyed by a large majority of the older children and their parents was held at the Ocean Beach school auditorium following the parade and the awarding of the prizes.

Since The News went to press ahead of the parade yesterday, a list of the winners will be published next week.

Arnold Morss, representing the Kiwanis club, was in general charge of the big event.

Lions Hear Whelan Explain Duties Of District Attorney

The district attorney is your attorney, as taxpayers you are his employer, said District Attorney Thomas Whelan in a talk to the Ocean Beach Lions club Thursday noon. Whelan, in his remarks, described the work of the district attorney in both criminal and civil cases and pointed out that, despite popular opinion, the work involved a great deal besides the prosecution of the morals offenses and violations of gambling and liquor statutes.

In criminal cases except those in police court the district attorney is the prosecutor. Whelan cited several examples of cases during the past year that demonstrated the responsibility of the district attorney in determining which cases should be prosecuted.

Also mentioned was the responsibility of the county attorney as legal counsellor and adviser to the board of county supervisors and the county institutions. In closing, Whelan emphasized the necessity for experience on the part of the man holding the office of district attorney.

Three new members were inducted into Lions International prior to the program. Lion Tamer Phil Sjoborg obligated Nat and Ed Schoen and Dr. S. Kuntz as Lions.

Guests present for the meeting were Kent Parker of El Cajon, D. A. Scott from Harrisburg, Pa., Frank Strachan, Venon Koss, Fred Williams and Louis Baldino, all of Ocean Beach. Gene Henderson was program chairman and introduced Whelan.

The Beachcomber

Seen and Heard:

Much excited preparation all during the past week for the big Halloween parade last night. . . . A great many small but eerily dressed trick-or-treaters abroad last night. . . . Careful attention on the part of local residents by "Dad" Clarke to the details of the installation of the barracks buildings in their new permanent location at the Sand-Oster clinic on the corner of Santa Monica and Cable. . . . "Bill" Morrison appearing on the avenue without the long-acquainted carnation in his button-hole. He says he's too busy campaigning for Fred Kraft to attend to the niceties of life. . . . Some of the contests in next Tuesday's election beginning to get "hot."

Salute of the Week:

To all of us as we prepare to go to the polls to select in freedom the men who will serve us in the government during the next few years.

Point Loma High In Tie for Lead Of Metro League

The Pointers of Point Loma high school since their sparkling 13-6 victory over the tough Grossmont eleven last Friday are tied with La Jolla High Vikings for the top spot in the Metro football league standings. Escondido is in third place following a 26-7 trouncing given Coronado High and Kearny after a close 7-6 upset victory over Oceanside is in fourth place. Grossmont has been relegated to fifth place, Sweetwater to sixth, Oceanside to seventh and Coronado in the cellar at eighth place.

La Jolla Vikings won their tussle with Sweetwater by the proverbial "skin of their teeth," the score being 13 to 12.

With these Friday games now a matter of football history, the main result for the Pointers is that their game this (Friday) afternoon with La Jolla on the latter's field, now shapes up as the big Metro league battle of the year.

Both Scores on Passes

Scoring both touchdowns on forward passes, one in the second and one in the fourth period, the Pointers put up a brilliant battle (Continued on Page 4)

Jacquelyn Bullock, fifth grade pupil of Ocean Beach Elementary school, won the individual prize in the second round of the "Quiz-down" contest on Saturday morning, October 26. The board of education, Radio Station KGB, and the Tribune-Sun and Union, are conducting a series of "Quiz-down" programs at the Spreckels theatre.

Jacquelyn's 229 points, one point less than perfect, won for her $10 in savings stamps, with an additional prize of a Reynolds fountain pen from the newspaper sponsor; for her school, a set of Compton Pictorial Encyclopedia. In spite of Jacquelyn's high score the boys' team won by a score of 835 to 671. Another Ocean Beach pupil, Kaye Miller of the fourth grade, rated second place among individual contestants, scoring 221 points. Kaye is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Miller of 2223 Soto St. Jacquelyn is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Bullock of 4705 Narragansett Ave. Both children have attended the Ocean Beach school since the kindergarten year.

A new scoring system in which boys' and girls' teams competed was initiated on Saturday morning. It provided 115 points for each correct answer given immediately. Contestants were penalized one point for each second of hesitation, after a 15-second period.

Mrs. Anne Bradbury, fifth grade teacher, and Miss Ruth Pryor, fourth grade, attended a matinee performance of "Rigoletto," given by the San Francisco Opera Company, on Sunday afternoon, in the Shrine auditorium at Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gertrude Belt of the Mode-O-Day Shop on Newport Ave. reports a new part time assistant, Ruth Charles of 5073 Narragansett Ave. who started work there last Friday.

Ocean Beach Voters Go To Polls Tuesday

Luckel Also Will Speak at Meeting Of Voters Tonight

CAPT. FRANK LUCKEL

Capt. Frank Luckel, nominee for the State Assembly, pictured above, also is on the list of top-notch candidates who will speak at the mass meeting to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Ocean Beach elementary school auditorium on Sunset Cliffs Blvd. near Santa Monica. Others expected to speak on the issues before the voters next Tuesday include Assemblyman Fred H. Kraft, nominee for the State Senate; and Charles K. Fletcher, nominee for Congress.

Judge Goodwin, nominee for lieutenant governor, also has been invited to speak and will be present if possible, reports Capt. W. Edwin Taylor, treasurer of the Republican county central committee. W. O. Cotton, committee chairman, also expects to be present.

The meeting is under the auspices of the Ocean Beach Republican club, who issue a cordial invitation to all Ocean Beach voters to attend the rally.

CHIEF ROBERT STIRLING RETIRES AFTER 35 YEARS OF DUTY IN U. S. NAVY

Robert Stirling, chief quartermaster, U. S. N., of 4857 Saratoga Ave. after 35 years was retired this month from the Navy. Seventeen of these years he was out on call. Chief Stirling whose father was George Stirling of the British Maritime Service, enlisted in 1909 in Sioux City, Iowa, and came with Mrs. Stirling to Ocean Beach in 1915. They lived at that time in the Los Nidos courts on Santa Monica Ave. where their son Robert Jr. was born. Mrs. Stirling says, "There were only a handful of people here at the beach at that time and we were lucky to get a real home in which to live." The Stirlings have made their home here during the 35 years he was in the service.

Keller Offers Suggestions For Curbing Crime

Five suggestions for helping to solve the problem of juvenile delinquency and to prevent crime were made by Atty. Don Keller of San Diego in his address at the evening service of Point Loma Methodist church Sunday evening. Subject of his talk was "Juvenile Delinquency." The five he listed as follows:

1. Improve the American home.
2. Provide community-wide recreation programs.
3. Enlist intelligent leadership for youth.
4. Teach delinquent parents how to handle their children.
5. Make use of the churches on a seven-day-week basis.

Crime is on the increase, last year having seen the largest increase in the U. S. in 15 years, he said. A part of the increase he ascribed to "weakness in the prosecution and punishment of criminals. We need a revival of old-fashioned courage in the prosecution of criminals."

The problem, he said, is complicated by the presence and foreign ideologies of 3 1/2 million Communists in this country.

Indications are that Ocean Beach voters will go to the polls in larger numbers than ever at the general election to be held next Tuesday, Nov. 5. The polls will be open during the usual 12 hours, from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m.

Local interest in the election is at an unusual high pitch because of the local men and local issues to come before the voters.

Both Fred H. Kraft and Capt. Frank Luckel, two of the candidates, are Ocean Beach men. The former is representing the 78th district in the Assembly of the state legislature, and is now the Republican nominee for the state senate at Sacramento. Ocean Beach voters are expected to return a large majority in favor of the home man. This contest, however, is for the entire county, and looms as one of the closest of the election. Kraft's opponent is City Councilman Chas. C. Dail.

Luckel is the Republican nominee for the state Assembly seat to succeed Kraft, and is being opposed by Vincent Godfrey of San Diego, the Democratic nominee.

Headlining the contests will be those of U. S. Senator Wm. F. Knowland, Republican, who has been serving at Washington since the death of the late Hiram Johnson. His opponent is Will Rogers Jr., Democrat, son of the late comedian by that name. The other headline contest is between Charles K. Fletcher, Republican, and Incumbent Ed V. Izac, Democrat, for representative in Congress.

Polling Places Listed

Two changes have been made in the 19 polling places for the Ocean Beach area, according to information received this week from the county clerk's office. The new list of places which will be used at the coming Tuesday general election is announced to be as follows:

Bruce Whedon was honored on his 10th birthday by a party at his home, 4486 Pescadero Ave., Wednesday afternoon. Refreshments, including a birthday cake, were served and games were played by the guests.

Big WAVE Barracks Moved Into Place For Local Clinic

Ocean Beach residents were treated to the unusual sight of a huge two-story building proceeding along some the local streets Tuesday and Wednesday, when the first of the two sections of the WAVE barracks destined to become a part of the Sand-Oster clinic on Cable St. was towed to its new location. The building, towed by two of the Hollywood House Movers' largest trucks, was pulled south on Bacon St., east on Cape May and south on Cable.

The only mishap to mar the occasion was at the corner of Bacon and Cape May, where the rear dollies got out of control and rolled down to and against the north curb of Cape May Ave. The efforts to dislodge the dollies took up the remainder of Tuesday afternoon, necessitating the parking of the building in the Cape May thoroughfare over Tuesday night. The building proceeded on Cape May to Cable Wednesday morning and was placed on its new site Wednesday afternoon.

The second half of the building is scheduled to be towed into place today (Friday).

SEA BREEZES

Let's Laff
Maybe Think

The conversation had turned to the subject of fraternal organizations. A little blonde housewife in the group found the talk over her head—and of little interest, anyway.

Pressed for a contribution, she observed, "Well, I don't know much about the Masons, but I do think their fruit jars are very nice."

My bonnie lies over the ocean

My bonnie lies over the sea; She writes of undying devotion;

My bonnie lies—obviously.

At the induction center, the army psychiatrist eyed the next recruit with suspicion. The man sat nervously on the edge of his chair, his eyes averted. . . . Quite likely an introvert.

"What sort of a social life do you lead?" asked the man of science.

The chap blushed and stammered.

"Oh, nothin' much," he answered. "Mostly just sit around."

"Hm-mm, I see. D'you ever go out with girls?"

"Nope."

"Ever have any desire to go out with the girls?"

"Well, yessir—sort of—"

The man of science frowned, cleared his throat and asked bluntly:

"Then, why don't you?"

"My wife wouldn't like it."

First Little Girl: "We got our new baby from Dr. Brown."

Second Little Girl: "Yes, we take from him, too."

Drunk to Policeman: "Just because my eyes are red is no sign I'm drunk. For all you know I may be a white rabbit."

Said one casket to another casket, "Is that you coffin?" (Ed's note: Who the hell threw that tomato?)

"My wife ran off with the butler."

"What a scandal."

"I'm satisfied. Furthermore my house burned down and I haven't any fire insurance."

"That's tough, old man."

"I'm satisfied. And business is so bad I'm going bankrupt. But in spite of everything, I'm satisfied."

"Great Scott, how can that be possible?"

"I smoke Chesterfields."

The Fact Is Clear...

THAT SAN DIEGO'S SCHOOL ENROLLMENT HAS GROWN BEYOND THE CAPACITY OF EXISTING EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES.

MORE SCHOOLS MUST BE CONSTRUCTED, AND AD-DITIONS MUST BE MADE TO PRESENT BUILDINGS. TO ELIMINATE DOUBLE SES-SIONS DUE TO OVER-CROWDING, AND PROVIDE A FULL DAY OF SCHOOL
EVERY DAY FOR EACH CHILD.

Paying off the bonds would not be a burden on the taxpayers — it would mean only 10 cents added to the school bond tax rate.

A current pay-as-you-go plan would require at least a 50 cent increase in the tax rate.

The Letter Box

Editor's Note: The following letter arrived Thursday, too late for including in the "Sound Off" column published on another page in this week's issue of The News:

Editor, Ocean Beach News, Attention Editor of "Sound Off": Yes, I favor Mr. Byrne's policy as it takes skill to play the game of appeasement. Not that Mr. Byrnes isn't a good politician. He is, but we Americans have not been trained in duplicity and manipulation on any scale especially diplomatically. We can hold our own nationally, in most cases. However, are we a match for the Russians who have for years been renowned for their clever "tricky" diplomacy?

The only recourse for an idealist when confronted with a ruthless opponent is to stand firm. Absolutely no appeasement. Leave appeasement to the nations who know their way around in the oily waters of "give a little and grab a lot." It takes fast and agile footwork to fence. Several extra pairs of eyes are handy too. Several to look after what you want, and two or three to see where you have been and want to go.

If the English couldn't get away with appeasement and prevent the last war it is no place for "big honest generous United States." We Americans have been educated to live by the golden rule. Russia has lived by the sword and that is how she intends to get what she wants, or else. As long as her representatives can keep us busy tending our labor front while she bandages her wounds and girds her home front with the spoils of war we might awake some fine day feeling just like Goldie-Locks. Only the bears will probably come to our shores.

Unselfishness and honesty will win in the long run but "there is so little time."—Mrs. C. S. Brandt, 4459 Pescadero Ave., a worried mother.

Jack was in the service for about two years, about a half of which was spent overseas in the Southwest Pacific. During his duty there he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Medal "for meritorious service." Since his release from the service about a year ago he has been in the real estate business in San Leandro. His wife and baby are accompanying him here.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sherwood of 4512 Del Mar Ave. announce the arrival of an eight-pound baby boy born at Mercy hospital on October 6. Mrs. Sherwood is the auditor on the executive board of the Elementary School P. T. A.

The Letter Box

Editor's Note: The following letter arrived Thursday, too late for including in the "Sound Off" column published on another page in this week's issue of The News: Editor, Ocean Beach News, Attention Editor of "Sound Off": Yes, I favor Mr. Byrne's policy as it takes skill to play the game of appeasement. Not that Mr. Byrne isn't a good politician. He is, but we Americans have not been trained in duplicity and manipulation on any scale especially diplomatically. We can hold our own nationally, in most cases. However, are we a match for the Russians who have for years been renowned for their clever "tricky" diplomacy?

The only recourse for an idealist when confronted with a ruthless opponent is to stand firm. Absolutely no appeasement. Leave appeasement to the nations who know their way around in the waters of "give a little, take a lot." It takes fast and work to fence. Several of eyes are handy to look after what you want or three to see who has been and want to go.

If the English could with appeasement and last war it is no pl honest generous Un We Americans have to live by the golden rule has lived by the sw is how she intends to wants, or else. As lo representatives can k tending our labor fi bandages her wound her home front with war we might ave day feeling just like Only the bears will to our shores.

"NO" VOTE ON 11 IMPORTANT

On November 5 the voters of California will act on a proposed constitutional amendment which has the sugar coat of being described as the Fair Employment Act. It is known as Proposition No. 11.

At first glance this proposition might appear to many as "a good thing." "Fair employment" has a pleasing sound. It reads well. Everybody is in favor of "fair employment." The Act, we are told, would prevent discrimination in employment on account of race, color, or creed. Thus, on the face of it, some voters will go to the polls and vote "Yes," believing that in so doing they are striking a blow for "tolerance," "democracy," human rights," etc.

But they will be guilty of a tragic error. They will actually be voting against tolerance and against human rights. Let's tear away the disguise of sugar coated, palatable phrases... look behind the avowed purpose.

It is anything but a "fair employment" act. It isn't fair to the employee. It isn't fair to the employer. It would compel the employee to work with others with whom he may not wish to work, a Russian bomb-thrower, for example. It would create a situation of intolerance rather than one of tolerance, which the Act professes to insure.

It would compel an employer to hire individuals whom he may not want, and whom he has a right not to want. Refusing, he can be thrown in jail, heavily fined, his business, in effect, destroyed by the planned OGPU commission that would operate this monstrosity in the mocking guise of "social progress."

This proposition opens the way to legalized blackmailing... to the sheerest terrorism. It would abrogate trial by jury for persons accused of crime under it. The commissars in command would function according to Soviet formula. Their directives would have the force of law. Courts would be bound by their orders.

Remember, if you limit your hiring to American citizens, under this Act, you have "discriminated." And you can go to jail for that.

Vote "No" on Proposition 11.

PROPOSITION 3—FOR "BETTER SCHOOLS"

Proposition 3, which increases the minimum salary of California public school teachers to $2400 yearly is the only sound proposal yet advanced to halt the alarming drain of teachers from schoolrooms and teaching talent from teacher-training schools.

The very qualifications of intelligence and education that teachers must have qualifies them for vocations in private industrial employment that are far more lucrative than teaching. That is the simple reason why our schools are so woefully understaffed. Teachers are quitting to take better jobs—and will continue to do so unless granted at least the modest guarantee of a living competence.

Both the Republican and Democratic parties—and more than 2000 organizations in every responsible civic, business, fraternal, labor and veteran category—have given Proposition 3 unqualified endorsement.

By an odd quirk of political circumstance, the ballot also includes a school Proposition—No. 13—which virtually nullifies the progressive educational safeguards of Proposition 3.

We earnestly recommend, for better schools in California, a "yes" vote on Proposition 3 coupled with a "no" vote on Proposition 13.

Mrs. George Kenline of 4468 Newport Ave. entertained the members of her bridge club at luncheon at her home last Friday. The eight members of this club meet on the second and fourth Fridays of the month.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pearse of 4483 Santa Monica Ave. will entertain tonight, November 1, with a 6 o'clock dinner honoring his father, Fred Pearse of San Diego, on his birthday. Guests will include members of the family and friends.

Mrs. Robert Frazier, formerly Florence Decker, and her son Roger, were in Torrance, Calif., two days last week visiting Mrs. Vanderpool. The latter was formerly Mrs. Frazier's swimming instructor at the Silver Spray hotel. Mrs. Frazier moved recently from Ocean Beach to 4201 Ocean View Blvd., San Diego 2, where she will live while waiting for her husband to return from China. Both plan to return to her husband's home in Iowa after his return.

High School Pan-American Club Elects Officers

Pan-American Club at Point Loma high school has recently elected its officers for this semester, reports Harvey Franken, chairman of the Spanish department, and sponsor of the club. Officers include Norma Anderson, president; Shirley Warren, vice-president; secretary, Dolores Reyes, and treasurer, Ronnie Campbell. Initiation of new members into the club will be conducted this week with each initiate presenting a two-minute speech in Spanish. Norma Anderson announces that Dolores Reyes has recently entered Point Loma from Mexico City and speaks very little English. The club expects several talks from her. "And I too, said Norma, have had the privilege of living in Mexico City."

"Three's a Crowd"
Advanced drama students open their 1946-47 season at Point Loma high school with the clever one-act comedy that is so popular "Three's a Crowd." Carol Irig, student director, presented this play to the regular student assembly groups on Thursday, October 31, with the following cast of thespians: Irving Rogers, Joanne Bovee, Glenn Rogers, Joanne Jensen and Quentin Decker. "These students are making their first appearance as recognized thespians," said Carol. Peggy Kelly, in Stage Design class, designed the set that was executed by other members of the class.

Hugh Knox celebrated his seventh birthday with a party for the older children at St. Stephen's school in the cafeteria at noon on Wednesday.

Martin Lankow Sunday morning at 8 and 10:45 in Bethany Lutheran church, Sunset Cliffs Blvd., and Cape May Ave. The Bible classes meet under the direction of the Rev. William J. Lankow at 9:30 in the chapel while the Sunday School meets in Bethany school.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bryant of 4574 Coronado Ave. and their two daughters drove up to Idle Wild for a week-end visit. Mrs. Bryant's brother, Joseph Williamson, who lives with Mr. and Mrs. Bryant, and Garver Light of Cape May Ave., are going on a hunting trip in Idaho, Arizona and Utah. They are leaving Friday (today) and plan to be gone for two or three weeks.

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Fred K. Magenot, former residents of Ocean Beach, announce the arrival of an eight-pound daughter born September 26 in Little Rock, Ark. The little miss has been named Modena Mae. Mrs. Magenot, who is a cousin of Wilma Kruger, director of the Playhouse Nursery School, moved to Little Rock when Colonel Magenot was transferred to Japan from Camp Callan.

SOUND OFF

Question: Do you favor Secretary Byrnes' policy of firmness toward Russia or the appeasement policy of ex-Secretary Wallace?

"I think we should stand by Secretary Byrnes in his firm policy with Russia because we have learned too much the other way in the past."—Wilma Kruger, Playhouse Nursery director.

"I favor the firm policy of Jimmy Byrnes in our Russian diplomacy and I wish he were in the White House at the present time. I think the Russians would respect a firm stand rather than one of appeasement."—Wayne Andrews, Bank of America.

"A firm policy shows that we know what we are doing and the rest of the world can better understand our aims. That is why I favor the policy of Secretary Byrnes."—Mrs. A. M. Cook, Secretary.

"From all reports, radio and newspapers, Mr. Byrnes has changed his policy considerably since the date of the Wallace speech in New York. At that time Byrnes' theory was—get tough with Russia. I am pretty certain that Byrnes will follow through with the advice of Mr. Wallace. Appeasement, get tough, or be firm with Russia, are not very good words to use in a situation which confronts our foreign policy makers and I am very certain that Mr. Wallace never used the word appeasement in that speech which was the direct cause of his leaving the cabinet. Joseph Stalin has declared his stand concerning another war and he can see no reason why another war should be in the making. The Russians deserve every consideration since, without their help in World War II we Americans would have had a tough time stopping the Hitler machine. We had to furnish most all the war implements the Russians used but we must admit Russia lost nearly 20 million men and for every Russian boy who stopped a Nazi bullet the life of an American boy was saved. A man like Henry Wallace as our envoy to Russia and the diplomacy as only he can use would soon convince the Russians and their diplomats that we are a democracy and really want peace. Russia is afraid of a coalition of England and America against them and I don't blame them much because of what England has tried to do in the past. I believe Russia will fall in line for world peace without the words—get tough, be firm or even appeasement—being used."—Mike Sullivan, "Cubby Hole."

Next week's question: "Should women receive the same amount of money as a man would receive when filling an identical position?"

Douglas Young, VICE PRESIDENT and GENERAL MANAGER

The Letter Box

(By Myrtle Orrick, Publicity
Chairman American Legion Auxiliary.)

The Legion with its nearly 200,000 members does not feel that the care of our veterans should have to depend on so-called gambling ventures, as legalized dog racing, to secure funds for rehabilitation, and wants the public to know that the American Legion through its 755 posts throughout California, as an organization, is opposed to this type of promotion. In justice to the American Legion and to the veterans it represents we feel that this should be given some publicity.

"The state convention of the American Legion, held in San Francisco in August, went on record as unanimously opposing Proposition 2, feeling that the promoters of the dog racing were using the veteran in attempting to put their proposal across," stated Thomas W. Staats, first vice-commander of the San Diego district.

Two other Veteran organizations also are opposed to Proposition 2. They are the Amvets and the Disabled American Veterans who state this measure would cost the taxpayer $48,000,000 annually if it provides the $2,000,000 "welfare fund" publicized by the proposition's unidentified backers.

Governor Warren has budgeted adequate funds for our veterans and these can be increased if it becomes necessary. However, there is the first proposition on the ballot, through which the people of California can help the veteran by voting in favor of Proposition 1, because this bond issue has proven a self-liquidating deal and secures the loan for the veterans' purchase of a farm or home.

They traveled both ways by airplane. Mrs. Andrews reports, "It was really wonderful to get to Oklahoma City from here in five hours."

"NEEDLENOISE"

(By Ellis Jacobson)

Claude Thornhill, well on his way to becoming one of the nation's leading orchestras, has come up with one of the best platters of shellac in the last couple of weeks. "Yours Is My Heart Alone" is an old number all dressed up in the inimitable Thornhill fashion. It's a slow, sensitive rendition that is more for listening than dancin'. The use of a flute and the maestro's piano add a soft sparkle to this little gem. It bears the Columbia label and 'tis mighty proud this company should be to have this band under contract. The reverse waxing, "Gotta Get Me Somebody to Love," turns out to be a western number gone highbrow. It opens with a vocal chorus and guitar honking away in typical western style. After a few revolutions of this, the orch. breaks in with another more orthodox intro. Vocalist Buddy Hughes slurs through the words and is hindered by a jumbled mess of accompaniment music. It's a sad rendition that should have been left to a western outfit. In spite of it "Heart" is a wonderful side and more than atones for "Gotta."

Mrs. L. Krettler Tells Good Story About The Judys

(By Marian Krettler)

Since the writer is the heroine—or something—of the following story, the editorial "we" must be disregarded.

The occasion was an evening call on Mrs. Warren (Judy) Fox. I had never met her husband, just home from the Army, and Judy has been ill for several days. As I sped towards the house on Santa Monica Ave. and could see the tall young man going about inside, it gave a feeling of happiness that the little family was reunited.

Going up the steps, I stumbled, reached for the door for support. It gave way and I was precipitated on all fours within the living room. Naturally, the young man was startled. But, regaining my feet, I introduced myself and added, "You're the man of the house? My, I'm glad you're home."

He said he was mighty glad too, and we shook hands enthusiastically.

"How's Judy?" I inquired. "She's just fine," said my host. "Can I see her?"

"Sure. She's in bed in the other room. Go right in."

Little Kathleen Fox, I gathered, was alone in the bed. "Judy isn't here," I called back to the living room.

"Sure she is. Right in the bed." My host came in and turned on the light. The tiny girl blinked in the sudden brightness. "There's Judy," the father pointed to her.

"I'm looking for her mother," I explained in bewilderment.

"Flora? She's out. But there's Judy."

"Flora?" I repeated. "I'm looking for Judy Fox."

"Oh," the young man said, "These houses do look alike. The Foxes live next door. My little girl is named Judy too."

He was very polite. But surely he wondered why I greeted him with so much enthusiasm and what business a strange woman could possibly have with his small daughter, especially so long after her bedtime.

Judy Fox was up and visiting with her husband, to whom I was properly introduced. Of course they were amused over the incident and knowing their neighbors, will probably get their side of the story. I'll bet it will be a wow.

"Bill" Morrison Writes of Glamor Days on Broadway

Editor's Note: William "Bill" Morrison, dapper man about town of Ocean Beach, formerly of New York's "Great White Way" gave us a little information about himself, in response to a standing request we have made of him. He says he was brought up on the Great White Way, 42nd and Broadway, in the days of vaudeville, road shows and repertoire. Bill says Corse Payton gave us good repertoire shows and was the originator of cheap prices, 10, 20 and 30 cents.

"I knew all of Tony Pastors acts, was working in vaudeville theatres that played the acts the following week after Pastors. Della Fox, Lillian Russell, Weber and Fields, Four Keatons, Four Cohans, and many others, including George M. Cohan who worked alone later. Well do I remember him standing on the corner of 42nd street hustling money for the San Francisco earthquake sufferers. Also I well remember Marie Dressler, Pete Daly, Eddie Foy, Nat Goodwin, Ramond Hitchcock, Richard Carl. In those days, too, the actors came to the front with benefits, etc., when someone was in trouble. I was in the New York Hippodrome then and for an entire week sold music sheets and gave the total receipts to the San Francisco sufferers. They got a lot of donations from the show people.

While in the New York Hippodrome I had the pleasure of passing Will Rogers in to see the show. Two cowboy friends of mine, who traveled with me with the Buffalo Bill show, asked me if they might bring Will Rogers up. He was playing with the wild west in Madison Square Garden then. I asked Will what he was going to do, and he told me he was going to get a try out at Keiths 14th Street Theatre the next day. He went over big just doing roping. Later he started his talking while roping. In a short time he became a big star.

Madison Square Garden was a great place in those days. Six-day bicycle races, horse shows, and all kinds of big events. I enjoyed the French balls. Everyone drank champagne. The wine agents were there. "Mums" and "Piper Heidsieck" were big wine names. You've heard the story of the Stage Door Johnnies drinking wine from girls' slippers? That's a fact.

I was in Madison Square Garden for 10 years. Also made the first trip to the coast with the Buffalo Bill show. We packed them. I was with the show for five years. Was also with Barnum and Ringling shows. Was an actor for two years but didn't care for that so became an agent, did booking and contracting. Was also manager of vaudeville and road shows, Sullivan Considine and others.

I brought one of the greatest psychics of all times out here from the east, Gene Dennis. I was her manager and press agent. She went over big on the west coast, played to full houses and became very popular.

I read a great deal of juvenile delinquency. In the east I made all the big auto shows, aerial meets and hill climbing contests. I had all sorts of boys working for me, hustling programs, etc. and I found good and bad but never had any trouble with the rough ones. They would listen to me, and I say now that if they were talked to and their confidence won they would listen to proper guidance. I've known boys that hustled around Madison Square Garden and saw them grow up to be fine fellows. A boy should have something to occupy his mind, selling papers, or other lucrative occupation where he will see and understand life.

I worked burlesque shows and musical comedies and, don't let anyone tell you different, we had some beautiful women. They were a different type than now, I mean, heavier. Diet wasn't thought much about in those days. Of course, we had some freak styles but they didn't last. They don't last today either. "Billy Watson's Beef Trust" were all big women and made more money than all the others. You could find us all around midnight in one of the Broadway cafes until the early hours. I could mention some charming show girls and they all lived to a ripe old age. Maybe the food was different in the old days. Anyway we all ate plenty and life was a merry song.

I also contracted moving pictures out of Hollywood. I covered five states and had good stars. W. S. Hart, Fatty Arbuckle, Marie Dressler, Charley Chaplin and many others. I could keep on writing other attractions but this gives you a glimpse of some of my experience in the theatrical business. I was brought up in the profession from a boy and always carried a cane, but I want you to know that I don't live in the

Thomas Whelan
Your District Attorney
Is the MAN

From 1941 through 1946, Mr. Whelan met with the San Diego County Ministerial Association, and was commended on many occasions by that body on his work as District Attorney in dealing with public questions in which that body was interested.

When Reverend George A. Warmer, Pastor of the First Methodist Church, was President of the San Diego County Ministerial Association, a resolution was adopted, which we set forth verbatim:

"Resolution

"Be It Resolved that we as the San Diego County Ministerial Association heartily approve the action of our District Attorney, Mr. Thomas Whelan, in his campaign against the bookies and gambling interests in the County.

"We note with approval the fact that this action was taken at the time when the Del Mar Race Track was operating and when the bookie vice was at the peak.

"Unanimously adopted.

GEORGE A. WARMER."

In October, 1942, Reverend John Bunyan Smith, Pastor First Baptist Church, San Diego, wrote Mr. Whelan:

"I cannot tell you how pleased I am with the present outlook for a cleaner and better county and city. This is partly due to your own willingness to prosecute violators of the law and your desire to work with the ministers."

In July of 1945 Reverend Erwin A. Vosseler, Pastor of the First Lutheran Church, wrote Mr. Whelan:

"Your efforts deserve the highest commendation of all who are concerned in civic righteousness, good government and crime prevention."

RETAIN a Competent, Proven Official whose record as District Attorney demonstrates his ability to handle all problems of County Government.

Vote for WHELAN, a lawyer twenty-two years; fourteen years your District Attorney. His OPPONENT has never tried a case before a jury in Superior Court—either civil or criminal.

LAWYERS' COMMITTEE FOR DISTRICT ATTORNEY
HARRY P. SWEET, Chairman

In June of 1945, Reverend William Forshaw, Pastor of the Union Congregational Church of La Jolla, wrote Mr. Whelan:

"It seems to be a matter of eternal vigilance to keep out and down the men who make a living by preying on the weaknesses of their fellows, regardless of law or decency. Your job is something like that of a gardener who is constantly busy working against weeds and injurious bugs and insects. Every law-abiding citizen wants his city to be as clean and respectable as the officers of the law and public opinion can make it.

"Wishing you continued success in your office, and assuring you of my good will and moral support."

In July of 1946 (since the Primary Election), Reverend John Bunyan Smith, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, wrote to Mr. Whelan disclaiming any responsibility for the attack made against Mr. Whelan before the Primary Election and disclaiming any responsibility for the use of his name in the campaign against Mr. Whelan. At the same time Reverend John Bunyan Smith wrote:

"I have assured all that you have cooperated with me and the Ministerial Association more than any District Attorney I have known across the years.

"I still hope that whether you are elected or defeated, you will prove yourself to be worthy of all our support and yet reach some commanding position in our National Commonwealth.

"I want to personally thank you for every good thing you have done as District Attorney and I want to assure you of my personal friendship and my deep interest in your future."
